provisional data

The value of industrial production in October 2019 2.1% higher than in September

Indices of industrial production, Slovenia, October 2019

In October 2019 the value of industrial production, turnover in industry and the value of stocks increased at the monthly and the annual level.

Industrial production higher at the monthly and the annual level

In October 2019 the value of industrial production was 2.1% higher than in the previous month and 2.7% higher than in October 2018.

Monthly growth in the value of industrial production was recorded in manufacturing and in mining and quarrying (by 2.4% and 2.1%, respectively). In electricity, gas and steam supply the value of industrial production declined for the fourth consecutive month (by 0.5%).

At the monthly level the value of industrial production in consumer goods industries and in capital goods industries was higher (by 6.3% and 1.3%, respectively), while the value of industrial production in intermediate goods industries was slightly lower (by 0.1%).

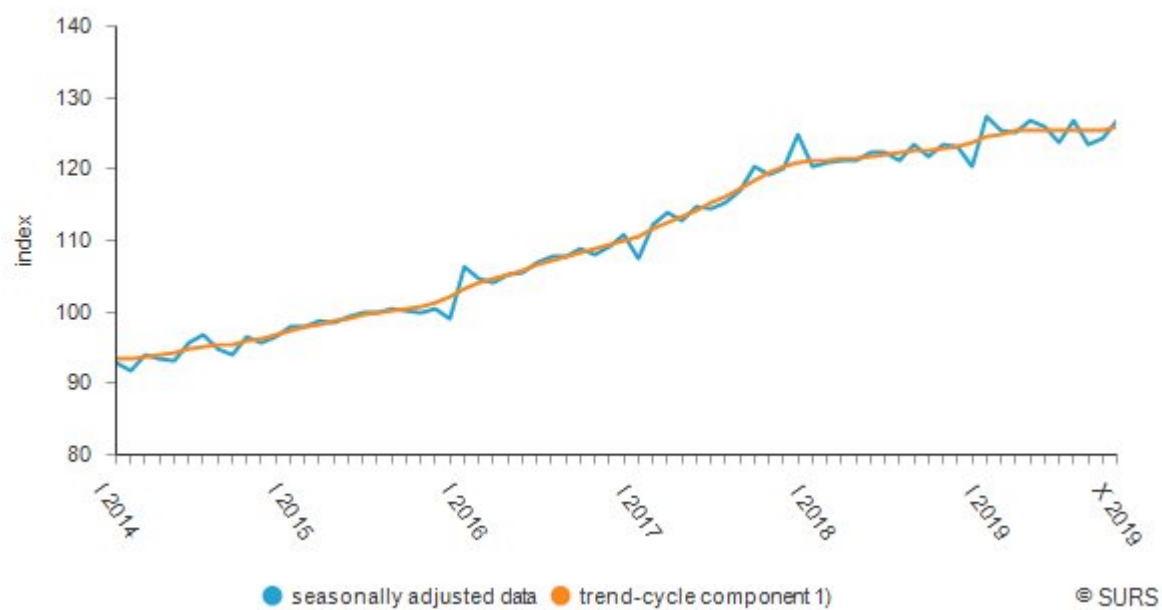

Turnover and the value of stocks in industry also higher at the monthly and the annual level

In October 2019 turnover in industry was 2.7% higher than in September 2019 and 3.1% higher than in October 2018.

The increase was due to turnover growth in industry in the non-domestic market. In October the turnover was higher by 6.2% at both the monthly and the annual level, making it the highest growth at both levels in 2019. Turnover in the domestic market decreased by 2.0% at the monthly level and by 1.3% at the annual level.

The value of stocks in industrial production was also higher at the monthly and the annual level (by 0.3% and 2.9%, respectively). In manufacturing it was 0.4% higher and in mining and quarrying 8.1% lower than in the previous month.
